State Farm in Lincoln County.

The meeting of the board of regents which was scheduled to take p'sce vest rday morning in the reg-nt's room at the university did not occour until 7 o'clock in the evening. Regent W. W. Booher of Elko and Regent H. S Starrett of Battle Mountain were delayed by the wreet of the fast mail at Harney late Friday evening and did not arrive in Reno until 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The meeting was held in the Washoe County Bank building and a fu'l board was pres- pracital laws and by proper repre-

The attention of the board was taken up entirely making ar rangements for the new experimental farm in Lincoln county. The question of fencing in the land was first taken up and S. H. Wells of Logan was awarded a contract for furnishing one thousand cedar. posts for enclosing the land.

The purchase of barb d wire and the letting of a contract for fencing the land were the next matters that came up for discussion. The board ordered that an advertisement for bids for performing this work be published in the Caliente Express, the paper located nearest the new farm.

The contract made by Charles Cobb, the agent of the board, with H. B. Mills of Logan for the land for $5.50 per acre was approved by the regents. According to the provisions of the contract twenty acres on the east end and the same amount on the west end are to be cleared by February 5th. The remaining forty acres are to be ready for use by March 1st.

The soil in the eastern part of the farm is sandy and it is the intention of the experiment staff to use this land for horticultural purposes, The western part will be used in conducting experiments.

The appointment of a director for this report.—Gazette. the new farm was not made at this meeting of the hoard because they felt the putting of the land in shape for use was more important. The man who will be in charge of the station will probably be appointed at the next meeting.

Changes in Wining Laws.

Senator Clark has introduced a bill in congress giving miners the right to tunnel through adjoining lands to reach veins which the owner has the right to tollow, under existing laws, from his own property through all its dips, angles and variations. It is the existing law of extra lateral rights with modern improvements. As Senator Clark is a member of the committee on mines and mining, it is probable that the bill will be favorably reported. When a mine owner or corporation lays claim to the apex or top o' a lode, the neighboring claim owners are ready to fight. The law reports of the mining states are full of cases wherein the law of the apex is in dispute. It might seem easy to determine where the highest point of a vein comes, the part pearst the surface; but it is really one of the most puzzlisg problems in mining engineering. If nature had formed only ideal veins of metal when in the agonies of upheavel, there would be few cases for the couris; but in the evolution of the earth's surface mol en metal rau into crevices, and the resultant veice of cre are found in every imaginable fan- as the administrator of the estate of tas ic position and shape. In the Mrs Annie Deck, deceased. Leadville district juries always find against extra lateral rights, in spite of the law of the apex, because the deposits there are almost flat beds. The miner who once established the right to dig under his neighbor's ground would practically own the the whole district.

In some of the mining camps a movement has been started to abolish the law of the apex altogether. The proposition is bitterly opposed because if such a law were passed, it would not take away rights already in poss-ssion and covering more than two-thirds of the mining lands, and we would then have two laws in force directly at variance with each other. The practical miner does not want the law of apex abolished. It is involved and intricate enough to support a large number of experts in mining law and to keep the courts busy in a dozen states; but the lode miner clings to it just as the placer miner clings to his pan and cradle.

It would seem that the mining industry had not grown to proporions r quiring some government supervision. Agriculture and commerce has received enormous approportions for the public welfare; but mining is left to take care of loss. itself. P. rhaps, when it is more fully rea ized want a treasure house we have in Alaska, the central goverument will take measures to properly protect the immense wealth of the mines, both by efficient and THE SALT LAKE sentation. This industry deserves a bureau at Washington and a seat in Published every Evening Except the cabinet.
